WANT TO CHANGE THE NAME OF THE CITY.

There is a movement on foot to change the name of Grand Rapids to something not quite so common, and one which will not cause as much of a mix up in our mail and express matter as has been the case for many years past.

There have been many talks heretofore about changing the name of the town, but most of the efforts have ended about where they began. Every man who has been in business in this city for any length of time has experienced the inconvenience of having packages that were wanted in a hurry go to Grand Rapids, Michigan, with the consequence that it often took weeks to get them. In the case of freight, it often took longer yet, and in some cases the freight never showed up.

What aggravated the matter more than anything else, was the fact that Grand Rapids, Michigan, is so much larger and more prominent place than this. The time may come when our city will rival Grand Rapids, Michigan, in size, but it is doubtful if any of the present inhabitants will live to see the day.

There is only one objection that could possibly be put up against the change in name, and that is sentiment. Some of the older inhabitants who have lived here the greater part of their lives may object to the change because the associations of a life time are mixed up with it. They are not to blame for feeling in the way they do about the matter, but nevertheless should give way to more advanced ideas.

We are now at a stage where our city is making rapid advances both in a commercial and artistic way. Both sides of the river are improving rapidly and much is being done to beautify the city, and the indications are that this work will continue. Already our city is beginning to attract some attention on account of the progressive spirit that is manifesting itself, but so long as we are hampered with a name the same as some much larger town, the outside world will be slow in discovering what we are doing.

In order to change the name of the city it is necessary to have a petition signed by a majority of the voters of the city, after which the city council must ratify the matter by a two-thirds vote. Grand Rapids is the name that has been suggested, and it is to be hoped that when the petitions are circulated that nobody will allow sentiment to stand in the way of a much needed change.

California Raisins.

April 30th has been set apart as California Raisin Day. This is a day set apart in order that people throughout the United States may make a special effort to help this industry by purchasing of their local grocer a package of California raisins.

Raisins are a most wholesome and nutritious food. It is excellent for children and grown persons and should take the place of candy for the reason that it is very much to be preferred as a healthful food. Dr. Josiah Oldfield, of Oxford University, and Royal College of Surgeons, London, Eng. says: "I put raisins as the finest fruit that grows and cannot be adulterated."

Let us all help California, and purchase raisins on April 30th.

P. MacKinnon.

Plans Are Accepted.

George Ward, secretary of the building committee, having in charge the creation of the new County asylum, states that the final plans for the new building have been accepted by the state board, and that the preliminary will be arranged at once, so that the work can be started as soon as possible. The plans were prepared by Van Ryn & DeGallake of Milwaukee.

Bought an Automobile.

John Possley last week purchased a five passenger Moline automobile from Bob Nash, the local agent. Mr. Possley left on Monday for Milwaukee and if the roads become sufficiently dry within the next few days it is the intention to drive the machine to this city.

The ladies of St. Katharine's Guild wish to announce that, owing to the inclemency of the weather last week, it is their intention to continue their rummage sale on Thursday of this week. Sale will be held in the Parish building, one door north of the opera house.

Come One and All to the

FIRST JOINT DEBATE

Lincoln High School

---VS---

Hudson High School

FRIDAY EVE., APRIL 29th

High School Auditorium

General Admission 30 Cents

The question to be debated Friday evening at the Lincoln High School is one of great and vital importance. The local team consisting of Clair Williams, Donald Johnson and George Hill will uphold the affirmative of the following subject: "Resolved That in the election of legislative bodies chosen upon a population basis, a system of proportional representation whereby parties are represented according to their numerical strength, is preferable to the present system."

To every citizen taking an interest in a discussion of this kind the High School extends a hearty welcome.

City Atty. F. H. Calkins is a business visitor in Madison today.

CONSOLIDATED PEOPLE CONTINUE GOOD WORK

Work on the island surrounding the new office of the Consolidated Water Power & Paper company has been taken up this spring where it was left off last fall, and already there is abundant evidence that the place is going to be the most beautiful spot in Grand Rapids.

A road was built around the outer edge of the island last fall, so that anybody who desires may drive about the place. In fact, those in charge extend an invitation to anybody to use the drive at any time.

The slopes leading to the water are being covered with soil, which is quite a task in itself, besides which the higher part of the island will be laid out in an artistic manner, with flowers and shrubs wherever necessary to add to the beauty of the place.

The strip of river bank from the island to the MacKinnon block is also receiving attention at the same time. A row of elm trees has been set out along the road, and a stone wall built along the edge of the highway, and the slope to the water improved so that it will present a beautiful appearance. This is certainly a great work, taken altogether, and the result will be that this company will do more to beautify the city this year, than the city itself has done during its entire existence.

Death of Wm. Shea.

William J. Shea died at his home in this city on Saturday after a short illness, his trouble being an affection of the heart. Mr. Shea was apparently a robust man, and as he was sick for only a short time, the announcement of his death came as a great shock to his many friends about town.

Deceased was a native of New York state, where he was born 60 years ago. He has been a resident of Wood county for many years, having been in business at Lakeview before removing to this city. He held the office of clerk of the circuit court for two terms, and was also undersheriff for two terms. He had many friends in this city and vicinity who will be truly sorry to hear of his death. He is survived by his widow.

Was a Lively Runaway.

A horse belonging to Joe Rick ran away on Thursday and demolished the rig somewhat, but escaped with very little damage. Mr. Rick was out in the town of Seneca and was in the act of giving the horse his dinner, having taken the rig from it, when Mr. Rick's collar dog attempted to jump from the rig. In some manner the dog got caught in the rig or harness and this caused the horse and caused it to run. They were eight miles out in the country, and the horse came all the way to town on the jump, the dog hanging by one leg and hitting the ground about every third jump. The horse turned the corner at the Wood County bank, running up Second street until it reached the back of Hollibaugh garage, where the wagon was overturned and the horse broke loose and was subsequently captured. The dog was pretty badly bruised up but at last reports was getting along all right.

Rintelman-Schneider.

Arthur Rintelman and Miss Agatha Schneider, both of this city, were married on Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. C. A. Mellick performing the service. They were accompanied by Miss Stella Douville as bridesmaid and Alvin Schneider as groomsmen.

Both of the young people are well and favorably known in this city, the bride being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Schneider, and is a most estimable young lady, while the groom is one of the employees of the Reporter office, where he has been one of the forces for the past ten years. The Tribune joins with their many friends in wishing them a long life of happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Rintelman left the same evening for Mellen where they will visit with friends for a few days, after which they will return to this city and make their home.

Automobile on Fire.

The Maxwell runabout belonging to George N. Wood caught fire on Saturday morning and there was some lively doings in that vicinity until the flames were extinguished. Mr. Wood was unable to account for the fire, as he was engaged in trying to start the engine when the gasoline about the carburetor took fire. The machine was pushed into the open air and a fire extinguisher obtained, with which the flames were put out.

The Salvation Army.

Sunday services are as follows: 8 p. m. Christian Praise meeting. 8 p. m. Great Salvation meeting. Services during the week are on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday evenings. Everybody is invited to these services. Captain Bacon and Lieut. McClellan, officers, are in charge of the work. In the old Wonderland Theatre.

Odd Fellows Convention.

A convention of the Odd Fellows was held at Stevens Point on Tuesday, there being delegates from all the lodges in this locality. Those present from Grand Rapids were A. B. Fewell, C. M. Johnson, L. Schroeder and S. E. Cottrell. This was the first annual convention of the thirteenth district. Louis Schroeder of this city was elected treasurer of the organization.

Geo. F. Kriger was called to Milwaukee on Tuesday on business connected with the forming of a company for the manufacture of his boring bars.

MEN'S RALLY-SUNDAY AFTERNOON, MAY 1.

The last men's meeting of the season will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Ideal Theatre. Rev. C. A. Mellick will speak. These men's meetings have proved to be very popular and it is hoped by the committee on arrangements that this one will be the best of all. Rev. Mellick has charge of the music, and the gentlemen who have so very kindly assisted him in the orchestra during the other meetings, will play at this meeting. All men, young and old, will be cordially welcomed.

Elect a New Chairman.

Atty. D. D. Conway of this city and H. E. Fitch of Nelson were in Milwaukee last week where they attended a meeting of the democratic state central committee.

H. H. Hanson of Wausau, who has been chairman of the committee for several years past, tendered his resignation and Joseph E. Davis of Madison was chosen for the unexpired term.

D. D. Conway of this city had been prominently mentioned for the place, but a press of business compelled him to turn it down.

Mr. Hanson, who has held the position of Chairman for several years past, has always been a conscientious and hardworking chairman, and did some good work while he held the office. Mr. Davis, his successor, is one of the popular young men of the party, is said to be a good organizer, and is a broad minded man in every respect.

Bought Fine Business Property.

Ed Johnson purchased 20 feet of the Goodman property, including the old Tribune building on Monday of Messrs. Duncan, Geo and Sutor. This is one of the fine business corners on the west side. Consideration $400.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Witter leave today for Milwaukee where they will spend a few days visiting. They expect to also put in a few days at Chicago and Kenosha, and upon their return Mr. Witter will drive his new Pierce automobile home from Milwaukee provided the roads are good.

THE FRUIT CROP IS BADLY DAMAGED.

The consensus of opinion among the fruit growers of Wisconsin is that the above caption does not express the fruit situation in Wisconsin. The general opinion is that there will not be an apple raised in the state this year, and there is no reason to think that other fruits have not suffered just as much. Some fruit raisers have expressed themselves as strawberries may have escaped, owing to the fact that they were close to the ground and may have been protected by the fall of snow that occurred along with the cold. However, this is only a forlorn hope, and there is no question but what the strawberry crop will be rather light, even if some of them do get thru. It is estimated that the loss to the people of Wisconsin will aggregate $2,000,000. Wisconsin is not alone in its loss, however, as all of the states of the middle west are in a like predicament. Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa and Kentucky are also heavy losers, some of them being much worse off than Wisconsin, their loss being proportional to the amount of fruit they raise.

Important Announcement.

We have most lately enlarged our Fancy Cake and Cracker Department and in order to equal our patrons with the delicious qualities of the many new varieties of cakes, have arranged to hold a Special Cake Sale next Saturday.

At this sale, a sack containing five varieties of dainty cakes, together with one package of Thelma Biscuits will be sold for twenty-five cents.

As we are obliged to limit this sale to a comparatively small number of Special Sacks, we would advise that you place your order at once, either personally or by phone, to avoid disappointment.

All of our cakes are made by the National Biscuit Company from the purest and best materials, are fresh from the ovens and are the most delicious and wholesome that private formulas of expert bakers can produce. Try them for your Sunday dinner. Let us do your cake baking this week. Johnson & Hill Co.

Will Hold Their Ball Here.

The Wisconsin Valley trainmen have decided to hold their annual ball in this city on May 27, having voted this way at a meeting they held at Wausau Saturday. Tom Smith, Will Hayes and Henry Carlson were appointed as a committee to look after the arrangements.

This annual ball is one of their big events, and it has been their custom in the past to hire two halls in order to accommodate the large crowd that attends. By using the amusement hall in this city, however, it is entirely probable that everybody can be accommodated and that the affair will be a large one.

A. E. Bennett for Chairman.

A. E. Bennett of the town of Chesham is being mentioned pretty often of late as the man who will be chosen as chairman of the county board at its next meeting, which occurs on the third of May. Mr. Bennett has been a member of the board for a number of years and has proven himself to be faithful and painstaking and he has many many friends on the board who would like to see him in the chair. There is little doubt but what he will fill the office very acceptably provided the board sees fit to elect him.

WANT TO CHANGE THE NAME OF THE CITY.

There is a movement on foot to change the name of Grand Rapids to something not quite so common and one which will not cause as much of a mix up in our mail and express matter as has been the case for many years past.

There have been many talks heretofore about changing the name of the town, but most of the efforts have ended about where they began. Every man who has been in business in this city for any length of time has experienced the inconvenience of having packages that were wanted in a hurry go to Grand Rapids, Michigan, with the consequence that it often took weeks to get them. In the case of freight, it often took longer yet, and in some cases the freight never showed up.

What aggravated the matter more than anything else, was the fact that Grand Rapids, Michigan, is so much larger and more prominent place than this. The time may come when our city will rival Grand Rapids, Michigan, in size, but it is doubtful if any of the present inhabitants will live to see the day.

There is only one objection that could possibly be put up against the change in name, and that is sentiment. Some of the older inhabitants who have lived here the greater part of their lives may object to the change because the associations of a life time are mixed up with it. They are not to blame for feeling in the way they do about the matter, but nevertheless should give way to more advanced ideas.

We are now at a stage where our city is making rapid advances both in a commercial and artistic way. Both sides of the river are improving rapidly and much is being done to beautify the city, and the indications are that this work will continue. Already our city is beginning to attract some attention on account of the progressive spirit that is manifesting itself, but so long as we are hampered with a name the same as some much larger town, the outside world will be slow in discovering what we are doing.

In order to change the name of the city it is necessary to have a petition signed by a majority of the voters of the city, after which the city council must ratify the matter by a two-thirds vote. Grand Rapids is the name that has been suggested, and it is to be hoped that when the petitions are circulated that nobody will allow sentiment to stand in the way of a much needed change.

California Raisins.

April 30th has been set apart as California Raisin Day. This is a day set apart in order that people throughout the United States may make a special effort to help this industry by purchasing of their local grocer a package of California raisins.

Raisins are a most wholesome and nutritious food. It is excellent for children and grown persons and should take the place of candy for the reason that it is very much to be preferred as a healthful food.

Dr. Josiah Oldfield, of Oxford University, and Royal College of Surgeons, London, Eng., says: "I put raisins as the finest fruit that grows and cannot be adulterated."

Let us all help California, and purchase raisins on April 30th.

F. MacKinnon.

Plans Are Accepted.

George Ward, secretary of the building committee, having in charge the erection of the new County asylum, states that the final plans for the new building have been accepted by the state board, and that the preliminary will be arranged at once, so that the work can be started as soon as possible. The plans were prepared by Van Ryn & DeGelleke of Milwaukee.

Bought an Automobile.

John Possley last week purchased a five passenger Moline automobile from Rob Nash, the local agent. Mr. Possley left on Monday for Milwaukee and if the roads become sufficiently dry within the next few days it is the intention to drive the machine to this city.

The ladies of St. Katharine's Guild wish to announce that, owing to the inclemency of the weather last week, it is their intention to continue their rummage sale on Thursday of this week. Sale will be held in the Farrah building, one door north of the opera house.

Come One and All to the FIRST JOINT DEBATE

Lincoln High School—VS—Hudson High School
FRIDAY EVE., APRIL 29th
High School Auditorium
General Admission 30 Cents

The question to be debated, Friday evening at the Lincoln High School is one of great and vital importance. The local team, consisting of Clair Williams, Donald Johnson and George Hill will uphold the affirmative of the following subject: "Resolved That in the election of legislative bodies chosen upon a population basis, a system of proportional representation whereby parties are represented according to their numerical strength, is preferable to the present system."

To every citizen taking an interest in a discussion of this kind the High School extends a hearty welcome.

City Atty. F. H. Calkins is a business visitor in Madison today.

CONSOLIDATED PEOPLE CONTINUE GOOD WORK

Work on the island surrounding the new office of the Consolidated Water Power & Paper company has been taken up this spring where it was left off last fall, and already there is abundant evidence that the place is going to be the most beautiful spot in Grand Rapids.

A road was built around the outer edge of the island last fall, so that anybody who desires may drive about the place. In fact, those in charge extend an invitation to anybody to use the drive at any time.

The slopes leading to the water are being covered with soil, which is quite a task in itself, besides the higher part of the island will be laid out in an artistic manner, with flowers and shrubs wherever necessary to add to the beauty of the place.

The strip of river bank from the island to the Mackinac block is also receiving attention at the same time. A row of elm trees has been set out along the road, and a stone wall built along the edge of the highway, and the slope to the water improved so that it will present a beautiful appearance. This is certainly a great work, taken altogether, and the result will be that this company will do more to beautify the city this year, than the city itself has done during its entire existence.

Death of Wm. Shea.

William J. Shea died at his home in this city on Saturday after a short illness, his trouble being an affection of the heart. Mr. Shea was apparently a robust man, and as he was sick for only a short time, the announcement of his death came as a great shock to his many friends about town.

Decceased was a native of New York state, where he was born 66 years ago. He has been a resident of Wood county for many years, having been in business at Babcock before removing to this city. He held the office of clerk of the circuit court for two terms, and was also undersheriff for two terms. He had many friends in this city and vicinity who will be truly sorry to hear of his death. He is survived by his widow.

The funeral occurred on Tuesday afternoon from the home on the east side, Rev. Fred Staff of the Congregational church officiating.

Was a Lively Runaway.

A horse belonging to Joe Rick ran away on Thursday and demolished the rig somewhat, but escaped with very little damage. Mr. Rick was out in the town of Seneca and was in the act of giving the horse its dinner, having taken the bridle from it, when Mr. Rick's collic dog attempted to jump from the rig. In some manner the dog got caught in the rig or harness and this scared the horse and caused it to run. They were eight miles out in the country, and the horse came all the way to town on the jump, the dog hanging by one leg and hitting the ground about every third jump. The horse turned the corner at the Wood County bank, running up Second street until it reached the back of Holliday's garage, where the wagon was overturned and the horse broke loose and was subsequently captured by a man who badly bruised up but at last reports was setting along all right.

Rintelman-Schneider.

Arthur Rintelman and Miss Agatha Schneider, both of this city, were married on Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. C. A. Mellicke performing the service. They were accompanied by Miss Stella Donville as bridesmaid and Alvin Schneider as groomsmen.

Both of the young people are well and favorably known in this city, the bride being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Schneider, and is a most estimable young lady, while the groom is one of the employees of the Reporter office, where he has been one of the force for the past ten years. The Tribune joins with their many friends in wishing them a long life of happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Rintelman left the same evening for Mellen where they will visit with friends for a few days, after which they will return to this city and make their home.

Automobile on Fire.

The Maxwell runabout belonging to George N. Wood caught fire on Saturday morning and there was some lively doings in that vicinity until the flames were extinguished. Mr. Wood was unable to account for the fire, as he was engaged in trying to start the engine when the gasoline about the carburetor took fire. The machine was pushed into the open air and a fire extinguisher obtained, with which the flames were put out.

The Salvation Army.

Sunday services are as follows: 3 p. m. Christian Praise meeting, 8 p. m. Great Salvation meeting. Services during the week are on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday evenings. Everybody is invited to these services. Captain Bacon and Lieut. McClellan, officers, are in charge of the work. In the old Wonderland Theatre.

Odd Fellows Convention.

A convention of the Odd Fellows was held at Stevens Point on Tuesday, there being delegates from all the lodges in this locality. Those present from Grand Rapids were A. B. Fewell, C. M. Johnson, L. B. Schroeder and S. E. Cottrell. This was the first annual convention of the thirteenth district. Louis Schroeder of this city was elected treasurer of the organization.

Geo. F. Krieger was called to Milwaukee on Tuesday on business connected with the forming of a company for the manufacture of his boring bars.

MEN'S RALLY-SUNDAY AFTERNOON, MAY 1.

The last men's meeting of the season will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Ideal Theatre. Rev. C. A. Mellicke will speak. These men's meetings have proved to be very popular and it is hoped by the committee on arrangements that this one will be the best of all. Rev. Milne has charge of the music, and the gentlemen who have so very kindly assisted him in the orchestra music during the other meetings, will play at this meeting. All men, young and old, will be cordially welcome.

Elect a New Chairman.

Atty. D. D. Conway of this city and H. E. Fitch of Nekeosa were in Milwaukee last week where they attended a meeting of the democratic state central committee.

H. H. Manson of Wausau, who has been chairman of the committee for several years past, tendered his resignation and Joseph E. Davis of Madison was chosen for the unexpired term.

D. D. Conway of this city had been prominently mentioned for the place, but a press of business compelled him to turn it down.

Mr. Manson, who has held the position of Chairman for several years past, has always been a conscientious and hardworking chairman, and did some good work while he held the office. Mr. Davis, his successor, is one of the popular young men of the party, is a broad minded man in every respect.

Bought Fine Business Property.

Ted Johnson purchased 29 feet of the Goodman property, including the old Tribune building on Monday of Messrs. Duncan, Geo and Sator. This is one of the fine business corners on the west side. Consideration $4000.

Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Witter leave today for Milwaukee where they will spend a few days visiting. They expect to also put in a few days at Chicago and Kenosha, and upon their return Mr. Witter will drive his new Pierce automobile home from Milwaukee provided the roads are good.

For Sale.

Household goods of all kinds at the lowest possible prices. These must be sold immediately.

THE FRUIT CROP IS BADLY DAMAGED.

The consensus of opinion among the fruit growers of Wisconsin is that the above caption does not express the fruit situation in Wisconsin. The general opinion is that there will not be an apple raised in the state this year, and there is no reason to think that other fruits have not suffered as much. Some fruit raisers have expressed themselves that strawberries may have escaped, owing to the fact that they were close to the ground and may have been protected by the fall of snow that occurred along with the cold. However, this is only a forlorn hope, and there is no question but what the strawberry crop will be rather light, even if some of them do get thru. It is estimated that the loss to the people of Wisconsin will aggregate $2,000,000.

Wisconsin is not alone in its loss, however, as all of the states of the middle west are in a like predicament. Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa and Kentucky are also heavy losers, some of them being much worse off than Wisconsin, their loss being proportional to the amount of fruit they raise.

Important Announcement.

—We have materially enlarged our Fancy Cake and Cracker Department and in order to acquit our patrons with the delicious quality of the many new varieties of Cakes, have arranged to hold a Special Cake Sale next Saturday.

At this sale, a sack containing five varieties of dainty Cakes, together with one package of Theoda Biscuits will be sold for twenty-five cents.

As we are obliged to limit this sale to a comparatively small number of Special Sacks, we would advise that you place your order at once, either personally or by phone, to avoid disappointment.

All of our Cakes are made by the National Biscuit Company from the purest and best materials, are fresh from the ovens and are the most delicious and wholesome that private formulas of expert bakers can produce. Try them for your Sunday dinner. Let us do your Cake Baking this week. Johnson & Hill Co.

Will Hold Their Ball Here.

The Wisconsin Valley team have decided to hold their annual ball in this city on May 27, having voted this way at a meeting they held at Wausau Saturday. Tom Smith, Will Hayes and Henry Carlson were appointed as a committee to look after the arrangements.

This annual ball is one of their big events, and it has been their custom in the past to hire two halls in order to accommodate the large crowd that attends. By using the amusement hall in this city, however, it is entirely probable that everybody can be accommodated and that the affair will be a large one.

A. E. Bennett for Chairman.

A. E. Bennett of the town of Cranmore is being mentioned pretty often of late as the man who will be chosen as chairman of the county board at its next meeting, which occurs on the third of May. Mr. Bennett has been a member of the board for a number of years and has proven himself to be faithful and painstaking and he has made many friends on the board who would like to see him in the chair. There is little doubt but what he will fill the office very acceptably provided the board sees fit to elect him.

The baseball season is again at hand. The essential apparatus of baseball is simple and inexpensive. All that is required is a field, a stick, the ball itself and police protection for umpire. One advantage of the game as played professionally is that those sitting in the grand stand can play the game a great deal better than the eighteen men on the diamond. It is also true that any one of the spectators, even though perched on a telephone pole across the street or looking through a knothole in the fence beyond right field, can judge of the pitcher's skill or the runner's fleetness much more intelligently than the arbiter who stands behind the battery. The great merit of the game is that the people can participate in it. It is not like bridge whist. Its science is not mysterious with silence. The thing to do is to take off your coat and root as loud and as loudly as you can, even if you don't know what is happening.

Educating the Insane.

The Sank County asylum is the first in the state where the education of the insane has been undertaken. An upholstery department, which includes cabinet making, chair caning, etc., has been established. Classes are doing work in brass and basket making and a carpenter's room has been installed. This sort of education is beneficial to the pupils as well as to the taxpayer, the idea being to not only interest and employ the patient, but to make each as self-supporting as possible.

Womans Club Officers.

The members of the Womans Club held their meeting on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. D. D. Conway, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President—Mrs. Victor Thompson. Vice Pres.—Miss Jessie Stetzer. Secretary—Mrs. W. O. Blachar. Treasurer—Mrs. J. E. Daly.

The club will engage in the study of Dickens during the ensuing year, several years past having been devoted to Shakespeare.

Miss Avis Linderman, who is teaching in the public schools at Colby, spent Sunday in the city visiting at the home of her brother, J. H. Linderman.

Johnson & Hill Co. have sold the two old buildings on the rear of the Fred Jackson property to Matt Carey who will use the lumber in the building of a new house.

Oh, dear to our hearts are the sad days of springtime, when the annual house cleaning recurs to our view, when we sleep on sofa and eat off the mantle, in an atmosphere strongly suggestive of glue; we think of the stove-pipe, the seat that came with it and sweeter expressions so fluent and fine, but the saddest and most bitter of all recollections is the dusty old carpet that hung on the line. Oh, that dusty old carpet, that rusty old carpet, that musty old carpet that hung on the line! We remember how, armed with a lithe flagellator, in the morning we blithely advanced to the tray, in the muscular pride of our heart, little dreaming that cleaning that carpet would take the whole day; we sweat and we kicked and our hands badly blistered, while the sun lent his countenance, warmly benign, but the harrier we pounded the more it was needed by that dusty old carpet that hung on the line. Oh, that dusty old carpet, that rusty old carpet, that musty old carpet, that hung on the line!

Juniors Give Banquet.

The juniors of the Lincoln high school tendered the seniors a banquet on Thursday evening, the feast being served by the ladies of the Congregational church.

After the banquet the young people repaired to the music room, where there was dancing until a late hour. The evening was a very pleasant one from start to finish.

To Replace Passenger Pigeons.

Ornithologists are endeavoring to ascertain if the wild pigeon has become extinct in the United States and if traces of their existence can be discovered an effort is to be made to preserve the species.

At the present time more than $3,000 has been offered for the finding of nests in various states, and the one that finds the first nest, subject to confirmation by the committee and leaves it and the birds unmolested, will stand to receive not less than $1,000 reward. Leaflets have been prepared giving nesting habits and descriptions and a large finely colored picture showing the male, female and young of the Passenger Pigeon. These will be sent to any address, together with a complete list of the rewards to date and what to do to get them, for 6c in stamps to defray postage and clerical work. Address Chas. E. Reed, Worcester, Mass.

New Methods of Cranberry Culture.

University Press Bulletin:—The early season has afforded cranberry growers an opportunity for unusually early planting in the Wisconsin districts. The improved methods which have been demonstrated at the cranberry sub-station of the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin at Grand Rapids are being followed by many growers. The important points in establishing or improving a bog, as outlined by O. G. Malde, superintendent of the sub-station, are the planting of good varieties that are known to bear well in the section, and thorough sanding of bogs to improve village conditions. Such standard varieties as Jumbo, Prolific, Metallic Bell, McFarlin, etc., he pointed out, should be used. It is poor policy to use more than three or four varieties on one bog, and they should always be in separate plots, preferably with a dam between. About 1,000 pounds of clear vines per acre are recommended where they are planted in hills nine inches apart and dibbled to the depth of four inches, or through the sand. Where local wild varieties of cranberries, which are prolific, are found it is a good plan to plant some of this variety in a small area. In such cases 5 or 10 pounds of these vines should be sent to the cranberry sub-station to be planted in the nursery where the varieties are carefully watched and compared with other sorts.

Growers should be especially careful this spring, states Mr. Malde, to hold the vines in check, as an early start in April may make it difficult to protect them against frost. Growers should be on the lookout for the appearance of blackhead or yellowhead vine worm and keep a record of the dates when these worms are first discovered. Growers should also keep a record of the dates when they flood their bogs, with explanation as to whether they are flooded for protection against frost or insect enemies, as such dates will ultimately be of much value to all growers of cranberries in the state.

Good Books on Consumption.

By special arrangement with publishers of the best works on tuberculosis, its care, prevention and cure, the Wisconsin Anti Tuberculosis Association is able to offer authoritative books to all persons interested in the crusade against consumption. There is no profit to the association in this distribution. It is a part of the educational campaign.

The Wisconsin Free Library Commission is already pushing the circulation of these and other books throughout the state. To fill further needs and give readers an opportunity to hold books permanently and pass them on to others, the association is pushing the circulation of such volumes. The accepted list contains the following named works:

Allen's "Civics and Health."

Brewer's "Rural Hygiene."

Fisher's "The Modern Crusade Against Consumption."

Francis's "Pulmonary Tuberculosis: Its Modern and Specialized Treatment."

Frost's "Tuberculosis or Consumption—With Special Reference to Wisconsin Conditions."

Haber's "Consumption and Civilization."

Hutchinson's "Conquest of Consumption."

Jewett's "The Body and Its Defenses."

ITCHING ECZEMA WASHED AWAY

—Is it worth 25 cents to you to stop that awful, agonizing itch. Surely you will spend 25 cents on your druggist's recommendation, to cool and heal and soothe that terrible itching eruption?

By arrangement with the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago we are able to make a special offer of a 25 cent bottle of their oil of wintergreen compound, known as D. D. D. Prescription. Call, or write or telephone to J. E. Daly.

We absolutely know that the itch is stopped At Once by D. D. D. Prescription, and the cure all seem to be permanent.

New Bank at Junction City.

Work on the bank building of the Junction City State Bank, the contract for the construction of which was awarded to Theodore Kohl of Wausau, is to begin at once. I will be a one story solid brick building costing about $2,500 with a galvanized iron roof, consisting of a committee room, space for the vault and the main room, part of which will serve for the lobby. The foundation is to be of stone. The contract calls for the completion of the building by June 25.

Will Meet at Wausau.

The annual convention of the United Commercial Travelers will be held at Wausau this year on the 2d, 3d and 4th of June, and it is expected that it will be one of the largest gatherings ever held in that city. It is estimated that there will be 3000 people in attendance.

GOOD LANGUAGE.

A very valuable habit for a family to acquire is that of using pure and precise language. As a matter of art, such an acquisition is desirable. There is beauty and grace in the very form of language correctly and concisely spoken. There is a charm in the speaker who is careful of his manner of speech. But far more important than the beauty of correct speech is the intellectual vigor which it stimulates and promotes. The use of good language encourages the habit of clear thinking. Speaking well and thinking well naturally go together. The intellectual process largely controls the manner of expression. This does not condemn the use of slang and pompous language, for that can be, and sometimes is, used to conceal the lack of thought. Our object is to encourage clarity, directness, simplicity and plainness of speech. It tends to ruin the mind and morals, too. People who use such language have confused ideas and lack an appreciation of what is true and beautiful. There is nothing more noticeable in making good clean men and women out of the children, than a household habit of clear and concise expression. It promotes not only thinking, but thoughtfulness, and thoughtfulness is one of the greatest virtues of a home. But make exact and proper speech one of the institutions of the home and it will remove from the heart many anxieties for the future of the child.

The proposition to rename the date of presidential inauguration from March 4 to a day late in April, in order to avoid the risk of inclement weather, has been side-tracked for the present. There is opposition in congress on various grounds, but one of the most curious is that the movement is in the interest of the Washingtonians, who want a chance for "showing off" under favorable conditions. There really is little glory for the Washington people in the inauguration exercises, and as they bear the expense of the spectacular part of the performance there would not be any serious damage done if once in every four years they did give themselves the privilege of getting into the spotlight. But the really serious objection to inauguration day in early March is the risk involved to the lives and health of the participants.

The immigration into the United States in 1909 did not reach record figures, the arrivals at New York, the chief port of entry, being 771,380, against 1,040,169 in 1907, with 1,200,000 in 1906. But the increase of aliens indicated that prosperity had returned, for the ebbs and flows of immigration correspond very closely to the industrial situation in this country. There were some unusual features in the 1909 immigration, including the arrival of 1,638 persons from Brazil to locate here. Ordinarily the drift is supposed to be in the other direction, Brazil being largely undeveloped and offering notable inducements to settlers.

A Cleveland schoolma'am when she was attacked by a highwayman threw him into a snow bank and then jumped on him. This is a splendid argument for the cleaning of sidewalks. If the sidewalk had not been cleaned where the schoolma'am was attacked there might have been no snow bank into which the highwayman could have been thrown.

Last year there were 957,105 alien immigrants into the United States. This was not quite up to the high water mark of 1,100,135 in 1906, but it was more than double the number of arrivals in 1908.

SIX DEAD IN FIRE

FIREMEN LOSE THEIR LIVES WHEN NEW HAVEN (CONN.) JAIL BURNS.

SCORE OF OTHERS INJURED

Great Excitement Prevailed Among 250 Prisoners But All Are Safely Removed to City Prison by Aid of State Troops.

New Haven, Conn.—In a fire which partially destroyed the county jail and completely burned the New England chair factory adjoining the jail, six firemen were killed and 250 prisoners were seriously injured. Fifty convicts employed in the chair factory were removed in safety. When the fire broke out there were 250 prisoners in the jail. They were greatly excited by the noise and smoke, which poured into the jail from the burning chair factory. They were kept in their cells, however, until the explosion of a small boiler spread the flames to the jail proper. The prisoners were then marched out on the lawn and so carefully guarded that not one escaped. Under cover of night they were transferred in patrol wagons and automobiles to the city prison.

BRYAN DEFENDER OF SILVER

Nebraska Says Taft Agrees With Him in Attributing High Prices to Gold Flood.

Washington.—The letter of William Jennings Bryan, written from Brazil and read before the Democrats who attended the Jefferson day banquet here and there at a similar dinner in Indianapolis Wednesday—the letter which caused a commotion among local banquet committees at its initial reading because of what some of them considered its unorthodox statements—in part as follows:

"President Taft, in his Lincoln speech at New York, February 12, attributed the present high prices mainly to the increase in the production of gold, and the consequent enlargement of the volume of money. "This unexpected endorsement of our party's proposition in 1896, when we demanded more money as the only remedy for falling prices, is very gratifying. How valuable that admission would have been to us if it had been made during the campaign of that year when the Republican leaders were denying that the volume of money had increased on pretels, and asserting that it did not matter whether we had much money or little, provided it was all good.

"We may now consider the quantitative theory of money established between dispute and proceed to the consideration of other questions. But the president and his predecessors have admitted the increase of the money supply as a fact on so many questions that further argument is hardly necessary on any subject; we may now take judgment against the Republican party by confession."

ROOSEVELT GOES TO VENICE

Former President Departs From Porto Maurizio With Italian Band Playing "Star Spangled Banner."

Venice, Italy.—Mr. Theodore Roosevelt and his son, Kermit, reached this city Wednesday in a special car which was placed at their disposal later in the day. Roosevelt and his family arrived in the city of Venice, Italy, and his family remained at Porto Maurizio.

The demonstration given Colonel Roosevelt on his departure from Porto Maurizio was as impressive as that which greeted him on his arrival. The mayor had placed the town with a proclamation thanking the American for his visit and referring to him in the most complimentary terms. On the streets flaming posters bore the message, "Come back soon."

DISCOVER NO COOK PROOFS

NO TRACE OF EXPLORER FOUND ON MOUNT MCKINLEY.

Fairbanks Party Scale Summit of Tallest Peak in America After Weary Climb.

Fairbanks, Alaska.—The Fairbanks expedition to Mount McKinley, the tallest peak in North America, reached the summit April 3 after a climb of one month from the base. It is just announced. No traces of Doctor Frederick A. Cook's alleged ascent of the mountain were found by the exploring party.

The expedition, which left Fairbanks December 15, while the controversy over Dr. Cook's disputed ascent was still raging, was financed by August Peterson and William McPherson of this city. The plan was to go into camp on the mountain as high as possible, and, probably about the middle of May, make a dash for the summit.

The obstacles encountered were so great as had been predicted, according to the climbers.

The expedition, which was provided with Dr. Cook's maps and data, endeavored to follow his supposed route, but utterly failed to verify any part of his story of an ascent.

On September 15 a detailed description of the discovery of Mount McKinley as related by Doctor Cook, which made public. The story appeared in the Fairbanks Herald, and the expedition's discovery of the peak, in the words of Doctor Cook, told of numerous hardships and of the awe-inspiring scenery in a new world, 20,000 feet above the sea level.

ATTORNEY GENERAL DEFIANT

Defends Administration Acts—Says Pledges Are Fulfilled to President's Limit.

Chicago.—George W. Wickesham, attorney general of the United States, speaking for his chief, William Howard Taft, Saturday presented to the Hamilton club of Chicago a comprehensive, defiant defense of the present administration.

And he concluded with the following warning or appeal that reminded many of those at the height of the scriptural words: "He who is not with me, is against me."

"I speak to assembly of loyal Republicans. I am sure I voice your thought when I say the time of running with the hare and hunting with the hounds is over and every one must choose whether or not he is for the president and the Republican party. He that hath no stomach to the fight let him depart. Treason has ever consisted in giving aid and comfort to the enemy. Anybody who wishes to join the administration let him do so. But let him not claim to be a Republican and in and out of season work to defeat Republican measures and to subvert the influence of the Republican president."

And tracing the blame still further he found that if the bills failed to pass, Congress would be due to the action of the Senate, which he did not hesitate to class as "traitors" and selfish obstructionists.

WILLS $100,000 TO CHARITY

Thomas F. Walsh Leaves $100,000 to His Widow and Daughter, Mrs. Edward McLean.

Washington.—When the will of the late Thomas F. Walsh was filed for probate, it was found that the daughter of the millionaire would be not the "$100,000 baby," but merely one of the many babies who can count themselves as merely millionaires when they grow up to man's estate.

The estate of Mr. Walsh, as shown by his will, reaches a total of $100,000, or maybe $150,000. The bulk of this sum is left to the widow and the daughter, now Mrs. Edward McLean, and through her to the baby that has been supposed to be the "$100,000 baby." One hundred thousand dollars is left to charity, but no specific beneficiary is named.

FIND WIDOW DEAD IN TRUNK

Body of Mrs. Gertrude Maxwell, Who Has Been Missing Six Days, Is Discovered.

Hannibal, Mo.—The body of Mrs. Gertrude Maxwell, a well-to-do widow, who lived alone on her farm, one mile east of Palmyra, was found in a trunk at her home by Sheriff Thomas C. Laseley. She had been missing since last Wednesday. The trunk was closed, but not locked. A club was found in the room, but there were no marks of violence on the body. Mrs. Maxwell is the mother of Wade Maxwell, county clerk of Marion county.

"HEY FELLERS! TUFFY SMITH IS CALLING ON A GIRL!"

LA FOLLETTE SCORES MORGAN

SENATOR CALLS FINANCIER A "THICK-NECKED BULLY."

Wisconsin Man in Attack on Taft's Rail Bill Also Criticizes Attorney General.

Washington.—Characterizing J. Pierpont Morgan as "a beefy, red-faced, thick-necked financial bully, drunk with wealth and power, who bawls his orders to stock markets, directors, courts, governments and nations," Senator La Follette of Wisconsin Tuesday opened a bitter attack on the administration railroad bill in the senate. He also criticized Attorney General Wickesham.

The Wisconsin member criticized the bill as opening the way for unrestricted consolidation of lines and the case of the Boston & Maine merger with the New Haven as an illustration of the possibilities of the act under the present administration.

Charging the attorney general with undue haste in discontinuing the suit begun by the Roosevelt administration against these roads, he declared that, judging by what that official did in that case, it was not a violent assumption to state that the "he would have entered into a stipulation with the New Haven road that the roads proposed to be acquired were not directly and substantially competitive; that on such stipulation judgment would have been rendered by the court of commerce in accordance with the stipulation, thereby extorting the government forever from making any claim that such acquisition was in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act."

Senator La Follette declared that every proper effort had been made by the Roosevelt administration to prosecute the merger suit against the two companies, and expressed indignation at Attorney General Wickesham's prompt dismissal of the case within three months after he came into office.

GUilty OF SAYER MURDER

Wife of Victim Sentenced to Three Years' Imprisonment—Doctor Miller Gets Twelve.

Watseka, Ill.—Dr. William R. Miller and Mrs. Lucy Sayer were found guilty of manslaughter for the killing of John Byron Sayer of Crescent City, Ill., last summer. The woman's father, the victim's father, was acquitted. The jury had been balloting and quarrelling for 40 hours. The penitentiary term of Miller was fixed at 12 years and that of the woman at three.

Pathetic scenes followed the polling of the jury. Mrs. Sayer buried her head on the shoulder of her daughter, Golda, and wept audibly. Mrs. Miller threw her arms about her husband's neck as the tears streamed down her cheeks. Even the aged and stolid John Grunden had much difficulty in repressing an inclination to join the others in weeping.

ONE MORE DEMOCRAT WINS

Normally Republican New Britain, Conn., Elects New Mayor Over Present Incumbent.

Hartford, Conn.—Just one week after Hartford upset past theories and elected a Democrat mayor, New Britain, second largest city in Hartford county and for years known in Connecticut as a normally Republican stronghold, elected a Democrat, J. M. Halloran, as mayor to succeed George M. Landers, the Republican incumbent, who has been in office for four years. Mayor-elect Halloran failed to carry much of his ticket with him, however.

New York.—A petition in bankruptcy against a prisoner in Sing Sing was filed here Wednesday. The alleged bankrupt is J. Edward Block, a jewelry salesman, who disappeared after obtaining about $60,000 worth of jewels from dealers.

Toledo Teamsters Strike.

Toledo, O.—Three hundred teamsters went out on a strike here Wednesday after their demand for two dollars a week increase had been refused by employers.

Gain by Justice Moody.

Haverhill, Mass.—That Justice William H. Moody of the Supreme court of the United States will be in his seat next October and political friends in this city are confident. The improvement in his health has been marked in the last few weeks. Moses H. Dow, an intimate friend of Justice Moody, visited him at the Corey hospital, Brookline, and Tuesday said that except for a lame knee the result of an old football injury, Mr. Moody could return to Washington within a month.

Fanatic Kills an Editor.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Editor Frank Skala of the Christian Journal, a Belgian publication, after preaching a sermon in the Second Presbyterian church mission of Woods Run, North side, Sunday, was shot dead as he stepped from the church by Michael Rzewicz, a religious fanatic who also tried to kill Edward John Gay of the church side street. Gay is in a hospital with three bullets in his body and can scarcely recover, while the murderer of Skala has escaped. A hundred officers are searching for him.

British Dreadnought Launched.

Clydebank, Scotland.—The Colossus, Great Britain's ninth battleship of the Dreadnought type, was successfully launched Saturday. The vessel has a displacement of 22,000 tons.

SEES A CLEW TO CLEMENCY

"Remarkable Sympathy" of Attorney General for Clients Charged—Scores President's Brother for Acting as Counsel.

Washington.—Representative Henry T. Rainey of Illinois by message Thursday accused the president of the United States with being intimately concerned with the sugar trust and its clients.

Mr. Rainey referred to President Taft's message sent to congress about a year ago in which the president advised against an investigation of the sugar trusts by congress for the reason that "by giving publicity and otherwise it might prove an embarrassment in obtaining conviction of the guilty parties."

Reviewing the history of the sugar trust and especially recent financial acts in underwriting the sugar for the purpose of obtaining the conviction of millions in revenues, Mr. Rainey said:

"I tremble at the thought of the grave danger not only to the doors of our penthouses but to the doors of our hearts, through the control of the Republican party in taking about this most delicate arrangement."

The attorney general of the United States until his appointment was a sugar trust attorney familiar with the methods of the trust, exhibiting even now a remarkable sympathy for its officials in their difficulties.

"The general counsel for the sugar trust is an ex-assistant attorney general of the United States, loyal to the Republican party, familiar with the methods and the secrets of the attorney general's office."

"The brother-in-law of the president of the United States is one of the attorneys for the sugar trust."

"J. D. Parsons, father of the ex-president of the New York county Republican committee, is under indictment on account of an offense against the law in Philadelphia."

"And the president of the United States has advised against a congressional investigation of the sugar trust, for the reason that it might prove embarrassing."

"The last of the frauds by the sugar trust was committed November 20, 1907. The statute of limitations is running every day and soon will be a bar against criminal prosecution. Two hundred and nineteen Republican members sit on the other side of this chamber and since the message of the president of the United States was read not one of them has lifted his voice against the sugar trust or in favor of an investigation by congress."

REHEARING FOR TRUST SUITS

Supreme Court Orders New Arguments in Oil and Tobacco Cases—Brewer's Death Causes.

Washington.—The Supreme court of the United States Monday assigned for argument the Tobacco and Standard Oil cases.

The reargument of these cases comes as the direct death of Justice Brewer. This noted jurist died just a few days after the Standard Oil case had been argued. As Justice Moody was unable to participate in the consideration of these cases, only seven justices were left to give a decision. In these cases the fact that the corporation tax cases were not set for argument is taken to mean that a decision will be announced in regard to the constitutionality of the law authorizing it within a short time.

Attorney General Wickesham was as much surprised as anyone at the sudden turn in the fight against the corporations. He expressed his utter ignorance of any further knowledge of the action of the court.

Unless a motion to advance the cases is made, they will not come up in the regular order of business for nearly a year. It is regarded as improbable that such motion for rearrangement before next term will be made. Only three more weeks of this term, although the court has come in before its adjournment, about the first of June, to hear arguments in a particular case.

FORTY CATS AND DOGS BURN

Gasoline Tank on Auto Truck Explodes, Killing Animals and Burning Driver.

New York.—The gasoline tank of an automobile truck belonging to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals exploded at St. Lawrence avenue and Merrill street, Wednesday night, during his delivery of cats and dogs to the shelter.

Pastor Yields Salary; Tolls in Plant.

Cleveland, O.—Rev. Thomas J. Praxce, pastor of the Clark Avenue Friends church, has contributed his salary of $15 a month to pay off the mortgage on his church, and earns a living for his family by working as a mechanic.

Rich Man's Son Poisoned.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Two sons of Philip Badali, a wealthy Italian of Wilkinsburg, were found dead in bed Wednesday. The cause of death was attributed to the institution after the explosion. Paul was unhurt.

Bank Robbed of $10,000.

Spring City, Tenn.—Robbers blew the vault of the First National bank at this place Thursday and escaped with an amount exceeding $10,000. Nitroglycerin was used in the explosion. Bloodhounds soon were placed on the trail, but thus far the safe-blowers have not been apprehended.

Fire Bug Attempts Murder.

Chicago.—An attempt was made to murder Mrs. Attie Knight, thirty-two years old, a paralytic, Thursday, by a fire bug, who tied down the woman to bed, set fire to her apartments, and then set fire to the place. The assassin escaped, leaving the woman as he believed to be burned to death. The incendiary also endangered the lives of 600 other persons in the huge apartment house, who were aroused from sleep and fled from their rooms to the street in their night attire. All escaped unhurt.

Woman Killed in Auto wreck.

Meriden, Conn.—Mrs. Edward M. Meriden of Sturbridge, was killed, Joseph T. Curtis probably fatally hurt and Mrs. John S. Sanderson seriously injured Thursday when a New Haven passenger train struck an automobile in which they were riding.

$1,500,000 for a Station.

St. Louis.—A 15-story passenger station, to cost approximately $1,500,000, is to be erected in St. Louis by the Illinois Traction company, known as the McKinley station.

STATE HAPPENINGS

ILLINOIS CONGRESSMAN LINKS NAME OF TAFT WITH SUGAR TRUSTS.

Chicago.—The city came out on top of the heap in the war over the filling of a ditch which was carrying surface water from the town of Peoria into the city of Chicago and into the river. The city of Peoria, which was the cause of the trouble, was again blamed by the Peoria officials, and the Peoria authorities were warned that it was to remain so at least until such time as the city voluntarily open it.

Kenosha.—A half a dozen firemen were found in municipal court as a result of a raid made by Deputy Sheriff James M. P. Kistner of this county, and Capt. John Hugh of Kenosha county. The men arrested were Fred Schneider, John Schuster, Otto Pohl, Edward Helm, Peter Manderbach and Fred Manderbach. They were arrested along the banks of the river at the north end of Kenosha county charged with spearing fish and fishing with dip nets.

Grandon.—Plans of the proposed new jail drafted by Fowler & Schuber of Green Bay were accepted. The cost comes slightly under $200,000, including heating and plumbing. The jail building described in the specification will be entirely fireproof, with no wood-work whatever. The residence portion will be nearly fireproof. Only the lower floor of the jail proper will be finished up at this time, as that will provide accommodations for sixteen to eighteen prisoners.

Madison.—A modeler's strike of large proportions is anticipated in this city. The big iron modeler's union has held a meeting and practically decided on going out. The petition has been sent to the national executive board in session at Cincinnati, and an answer is expected from that body soon. The local union demands a minimum wage of three dollars per week, 11 hours work, and that core makers, now affiliated with the union, be included.

Fond du Lac, Wis.—Both arms fractured and her scalp almost torn from her head as the result of a fall, Kate Dillon, a blind woman, lies at St. Agnes hospital in a critical condition. Miss Dillon, who is sixty years old and who has been blind since childhood, came to a sudden fall from a chair in the house.

The accident is believed to have been due to a misstep, which sent her headlong down a stairway.

Madison.—All fundrymen here are alarmed because of a threatened walkout of the molders, coremakers and laborers, who are demanding higher wages and shorter hours. The men will present a formal demand within two weeks. It is said, and if refused will quit work.

The Belle City Malheur from company employing 600 men, announced it will employ women in case its men go on strike.

Spring.—Mrs. Fred Laueck of Jaxays has a flock of 22 hens that has broken the world's record for one day's laying. The 22 hens laid 30 eggs one day recently, eight hens out of the flock laying two eggs apiece on that day. Mrs. Laueck is positive that no other chickens were around the place and that the eggs were all empty when the morning of the day that she found the 30 eggs.

Angus.—Work will be begun in a few days on the building of a large automobile garage. It is to be built of brick and be made a model auto garage. The company is to be known as the Anglo Auto company. George W. Hill is getting plans for a modern new store and office building to be erected on the site now occupied by the Windsor hotel. The cost will be about $300,000.

Appleton.—The Oneida reservation was organized into a township of Oneida county. The Indians will now become taxpayers and will be represented upon the county board. The first chairman is Nelson Melonen.

Bau Claire.—On account of lack of boys, the Western Union office is employing girls as messengers for day deliveries. For some time past no boys have been available for more than a few days at a time.

Madison.—Seven tons of dynamite were exploded in quarry No. 2 of the Universal Crushed Stone company at Ives at noon and 50,000 yards of stone were loosened. The dynamite was placed in 11 holes drilled 105 feet deep in the walls at the north end of the quarry. The explosion was heard for miles.

Chippewa Falls, Wis.—John Olson, aged twenty-five, was drowned in Yellow River 25 miles north of here. He was driving for the Yellow River Lumber company of Stillwater and while working on a log dam was thrown into the rapids and drowned.

Marshall.—A stroke of lightning damaged the steeple of the Catholic church. The edifice was rattled its entire length. A loss of about $1,000 was estimated.

Waupun.—A Northwestern has agreed to construct a viaduct across its right of way at the intersection of Canal street and Single avenue.

Kenosha.—The Kenosha board of education has accepted the new Columbus school just completed, and it will be opened soon. The new building will furnish accommodations for 600 pupils.

Antigo.—The Kohal Adams Jesuit congregation of orthodox Jews of Antigo, purchased 60 feet of frontage on South Superior street, just north of the Seventh Day Adventist church. They will remodel the cottage now upon the property into a Jewish temple.

Madison.—The fifteenth annual conference of the English Evangelical Lutheran synod of the north-west was opened Wednesday in attendance, by Rev. W. K. Frick of Chicago, formerly of Milwaukee. Rev. H. K. Gebhardt of Kenosha was the principal speaker.

THE CIRCULAR STAIRCASE

SYNOPSIS.

Miss Innes, Halsey and Gertrude, established summer headquarters at Sunnyside. Amidst numerous difficulties the servants desert, and Miss Innes, Halsey and Gertrude are left to their own devices. The house was situated by a dark figure on the lawn. One night, while Gertrude was alone, a shadowy figure appeared in the doorway. The next morning, Gertrude found a note pinned to her door. It was from a man who had been in the house the night before. He had been in the house the night before. He had been in the house the night before.

The night the detective arrived, Saturday, I had a talk with him. He was a man of middle age, with a high forehead and a serious expression. He was dressed in a dark suit and a white shirt. He was sitting in a chair, and I was standing in front of him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him.

"You heard no other sound?" the detective asked. "There was no one with Mr. Armstrong when he entered."

"It was perfectly dark. There were no voices and I heard nothing. There was just the sound of the door, the shot, and the opening of somebody falling."

"Then, while you went through the drawing room and upstairs to alarm the household, the criminal, whoever it was, could have escaped by the east door?"

"Yes."

"Thank you. That will do."

I flatter myself that the corner got little enough out of me. I saw Mr. Jamieson smiling to himself, and the corners gave me up after a time. I admitted I had found the body, said I had not known who it was until Mr. Jarvis told me, and ended by looking up at Barbara Fitzhugh and saying that in renting the house I had not expected to be involved in any family scandal. At which she turned purple.

The verdict was that Arnold Armstrong had met his death at the hands of a person or persons unknown, and we prepared to leave. Barbara Fitzhugh flounced out without waiting to speak to me, but Mr. Harton came up, as I know he would.

"I have decided to give up the house, I hope, Miss Innes," he said. "Mrs. Armstrong has wired me again."

"I am not going to give it up," I maintained, "until I understand some things that are puzzling me. The fact that the murderer is discovered, I will leave."

"Then, judging by what I have heard, you will be back in the city very soon," he said. And I knew that he suspected the discredited cashier of the Traders' bank.

Mr. Jamieson came up to me as I was about to leave the corner's office.

"How is your patient?" he asked with his odd little smile.

"I have no patient," I replied, startled.

"I will put it in a different way, then. How is Miss Armstrong?"

"She is doing very well," I stammered.

"Good," cheerfully. "And our ghost?"

"I said."

"Mr. Jamieson," I said suddenly, "I wish you would come to Sunnyside and spend a few days there. The ghost is not bad. I want you to spend one night at the house, and then the circle will be complete. The murder of Arnold Armstrong was a beginning, not an end."

"He looked serious."

"Perhaps I can do it," he said. "I have been doing something else, but—well, I will come, on condition."

When he was alone, I watched Gertrude closely and somewhat sadly. To me there was one glaring flaw in her story, and it seemed to stand out for every one to see. Arnold Armstrong had had no key, and yet she said she had locked the east door. He must have been admitted from within the house, over and over I repeated it to myself.

"That night, as gently as I could, I told Louise the story of her step-brother's death. She sat in her big, pillow-filled chair, and heard me through without interruption. It was clear that she was shocked beyond words; (I had hoped to learn anything from her expression, I had failed. She was as much in the dark as we were.)

CHAPTER XVIII.

A Hole in the Wall.

My taking the detective out to Sunnyside raised an unexpected storm of protest from Gertrude and Halsey. I was not prepared for it, and I scarcely knew how to account for it. To me, the case was well known to me, and I was doing, than he was off in the city, trying circumstances and motives to suit himself and learning what he wished to know about events at Sunnyside in some occult way. I was glad enough to have him there, when the elements began to come thick and fast.

A new element was about to enter into affairs; Monday, or Tuesday at the latest, would find Dr. Walker back in his green and white house in the village, and Louise's attitude to him in the immediate future would signi-ness, as it might turn out. Then, too, Halsey's happiness or wretchedness, the return of his mother would mean, of course, that she would have to leave us, and I had become greatly attached to her.

From the day Mr. Jamieson came to Sunnyside, there was a subtle change in Gertrude's manner to me. It was elusive, difficult to analyze, but it was there. She was no longer frank with me, although I think her affection never wavered. At the time I laid the change to the fact that I had forbidden all communication with John Bailey, and had refused to acknowledge any engagement between the two. Gertrude spent much of her time wandering through the grounds, looking long across-country walks. Halsey played golf at the Country Club day after day, and after Louise left, as she did the following week, Mr. Jamieson and I were much together. He played a fair game of cribbage, but he chattered at solitaire.

The night the detective arrived, Saturday, I had a talk with him. He was a man of middle age, with a high forehead and a serious expression. He was dressed in a dark suit and a white shirt. He was sitting in a chair, and I was standing in front of him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him.

He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him.

He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him.

He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him.

He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him.

He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him.

He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him.

He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him.

He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him.

He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him.

and put one on every stair in the house, and you'll never catch any thing. There's some things you can't handle."

Liddy was right. As soon as I could, I went up to the trunkroom, which was directly over my bedroom. The plan of the upper story of the house was like that of the second floor, in the main. One end, however, over the east wing, had been left only rough, and the intention having been to convert it into a bathroom at some future time. The maid's rooms, trunkroom, and various storerooms, including a large linen room, opened from a long corridor, like that on the second floor. And in the trunkroom, as Liddy had said, was a fresh break in the plaster.

Not only in the plaster, but through the lathing, the aperture extended. I reached into the opening, and three feet away, perhaps, I could touch the bricks of the partition wall. For some reason the architect in building the house had left a space there that struck me, even in the surprise of the moment. I had expected a secret room, at the very least, and I think even Mr. Jamieson had fancied he might at last have a clue to the mystery. There was evidently nothing more to be discovered: Liddy reported that everything was serene among the servants, and that none of them had been disturbed by the noise. The maddening thing, however, was that the nightly visitor had evidently more than one way of gaining access to the house, and we made arrangements to redouble our vigilance as to windows and doors that night.

Halsey was inclined to pooh-pooh the whole affair. He said a break in the plaster might have occurred months ago and gone unnoticed, and that the dust had probably been stirred up the day before. After all, we had to let it go at that, but we put in an uncomfortable Sunday. Gertrude went to church, and Halsey took a long walk in the morning. Louise was able to go, and she allowed Halsey and Liddy to assist her downstairs late in the afternoon. The east veranda was shady, green with vines and palms, cheerful with cushions and lounging chairs. We put Louise in a steamer chair, and she sat there passively enough, her hands clasped in her lap.

We were very silent. Halsey sat on the rail with a pipe, openly watching Louise, as she looked broadly across the valley to the hills. There was something baffling in the girl's eyes; and gradually Halsey's boyish features lost their glow at seeing her about again, and settled into grim lines. He was like his father just then.

We sat until late afternoon, Halsey growing more and more moody. Shortly before six he got up and went into the house, and in a few minutes he came out and called me to the telephone. It was Anne Whitcomb, in town, and she kept me for 20 minutes, telling me the children had had the measles and how Mme. Sweeney had watched her new gown.

When I finished, Liddy was behind me, her mouth a thin line.

"I wish you would try to look cheerful, Liddy," I groaned. "Your face would kill me." But Liddy seldom replied to my gibes. She folded her lips a little tighter.

"He called her up," she said oracularly. "He called her up, and asked her to keep you at the telephone, so he could talk to Miss Louise. A thankless child is sharper than a serpent's tooth."

"Nonsense!" I said brusquely. "I might have known enough to leave them. It's a long time since you and I were in love, Liddy, and—we forget."

Liddy smiled.

"No man ever made a fool of me," she replied virtuously.

"Well, something did," I retorted.

"He called her up," she said oracularly. "He called her up, and asked her to keep you at the telephone, so he could talk to Miss Louise. A thankless child is sharper than a serpent's tooth."

Why every person should have a bank account.

Only Business Way.—Ninety percent of all business is done with checks and any person who tries to get along without them is working at a disadvantage.

The farmer and the mechanic need a bank account more than the business man who employs a book keeper to keep his accounts in order.

We furnish the check books free and explain everything fully.

American Lady SHOE

This divided strap effect, besides being mighty pretty, has a lot of common sense to it. It pulls the shoe to your foot at the points that are most likely to bulge and slip. You'd be surprised how perfectly snug it feels at every point. This is a black suede pump, made on the dainty "Ruth" last, with high heel. The set buckle is one of the newest and prettiest decorations of the season. You really can't realize how pretty this pump is without seeing it. Won't you step in some time today?

Stetson

Everywhere it is the hat of style, service and satisfaction.

We have the Stetson Soft and Ducky Hats in all the latest styles

When a question of Hats confronts you

Seek the store that handles the better makes, such as the J. B. Stetson at $4 and $5 or the Belmont at $3.00.

These makes we handle in both SOFT and STIFF, in many shapes and colors. Also have the cheaper makes in shapes about the same, from $2.50 down to $1.50. The hat doesn't make the man, but it makes lots of difference in his appearance. Come in and we'll help you select a shape most becoming to you—leave it to us.

P. S.—If you have a hat in Panama or Felt to be cleaned and reblocked bring them in and we'll have it done for you.

The Store That Saves You Money

ARPIN

Mrs. O. Dingeldein and Mrs. M.
Morris were Marshfield visitors
Wednesday.

Bills are out announcing a home talent play entitled "A Noble Outcast or Jerry the Tramp" given by the Vesper band boys. The play will be produced at the Arpin town hall Friday evening, April 28th under the auspices of the Arpin R. N. A.
After the show a dance will be given music to be furnished by the band boys. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. C. W. Bluett returned home on Saturday from St. Joseph's hospital at Marshfield, where she has been for nearly seven weeks.

A. J. Cowell and Earl Winebrenner were Grand Rapids visitors Tuesday.

Mrs. Andrew Mosher and children visited with relatives in Necedah the past week.

ALTDORF

F. Wuersch departed for Green Bay today where he will take charge of the steam shovel again this summer for the G. B. & W. Ry. Geo. Huser intends to leave for the same place in a few days to work with Mr.
Wuersch.

Tony Wipfli had a barn raising bee last Wednesday and thus again our neighborhood is improved in appearance for Tony certainly has a fine building.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Firman called at O. J. Lea's place Thursday evening.
There was a dancing party at F.
Ruesch's Sunday evening.

E. J. Caswell is moving to Vesper where he intends to live.
Guy Wood, who is now connected with an automobile agency at Eau Claire, came over on Saturday to spend Sunday with his people in this city.

VESPER.

The Vesper Wood Mfg. Co. started their factory last week and will run its full capacity in a few weeks.
They expect to employ fifteen men.
They have orders booked to keep the factory running for at least four months which is quite an item for Vesper.

Harold Truetel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Truetel, had the misfortune of breaking his right arm just above the elbow while at play in school.

The basement for the candy kitchen and restaurant of Harry Coles is now complete and they will start on the brick work in a few days. The building will be solid brick and fire proof.

Mr. McVicar is having plans drawn and rock hauled for a house which he intends to build on his lot No.
910 Anderson Avenue.

Albert Adams is making preparations to start a button factory on the corner of Wisconsin Street and Cameron Avenue. The machinery which is coming from Iowa, is expected at any time.

Mrs. Ohas. Wittig was called to Oshkosh last week where her daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. Scott is quite sick.

Mrs. H. Stahl called on her sister, Mrs. Wm. Paape, at Marshfield last week. Mrs. Paape has been very sick but is now able to be up and around.

John N. Hayes resigned his position as manager of Vesper Safety Clubs and Malleable Iron Co.

O. G. Malde of the experimental station at Cranmoor, was in the city on Tuesday looking after some business matters. He reports everything looking first class on the marsh notwithstanding the fact that the weather has been unfavorable for other fruits.

Making Careful Statements.

Jacob Kissinger of the town of Sigel was a pleasant caller at the Tribune office on Tuesday. Mr. Kissinger has just got back from Luona where he had been visiting his son John, and where he went to do some fishing.
When asked how he found the fishing,
he stated that it was only fair,
nothing to brag of, the fourteen inches of snow that lay on the ground when he left there making it less interesting for this sort of sport than it otherwise would have been.
After Jake got all thru telling us about the fishing we came to the conclusion that he did not catch any fish at all, but of course we may have been mistaken.

Dr. George Houston, who has been in the west the past year, arrived in the city this morning from Tacoma, Wash. It is Doc's intention to start in business here, and it is rumored that he will form a partnership with Dr. Carl Bandelin.

Voyer-Smith.

Miss Amanda Voyer and Charles Smith were married at the Catholic parsonage Monday evening, Rev. Wm.
Redding officiating. They were accompanied by George Smith and Miss Margaret Voyer.

They left on Tuesday for Milwaukee where they will spend a short honeymoon, after which they will return to this city to make their home.

Both of the interested parties are well and favorably known in this city and have many friends to wish them God speed on their journey thru life.

Heads Association.

John P. Horton, manager of the Grand Rapids Milling company in this city, was in Milwaukee last week where he attended the annual meeting of Wisconsin millers. Mr.
Horton was again elected president of the organization, an office which he has held for several years past.

ARPIN

Mrs. O. Dingeldein and Mrs. M. Morris were Marshfield visitors Wednesday.

Bills are out announcing a home talent play entitled "A Noble Outcast or Jerry the Tramp" given by the Vesper band boys. The play will be produced at the Arpin town hall Friday evening, April 29th, under the auspices of the Arpin B. N. A. After the show a dance will be given music to be furnished by the band boys. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. O. W. Bluet returned home on Saturday from St. Joseph's hospital at Marshfield, where she has been for nearly seven weeks.

A. J. Cowell and Earl Winebrenner were Grand Rapids visitors Tuesday

Mrs. Andrew Mosher and children visited with relatives in Needaan the past week.

ALTDORF

F. Wersch departed for Green Bay today where he will take charge of the team ahead again this summer for the G. B. & W. Ry. Geo. Huser intends to leave for the same place in a few days to work with Mr. Wersch.

Tony Wipf had a barn raising here last Wednesday and thus again our neighborhood is improved in appearance for Tony certainly has a fine building.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Firman called at O. J. Leu's place Thursday evening. There was a dancing party at F. Ruech's Sunday evening.

E. J. Caswell is moving to Vesper where he intends to live.

Gay Wood, who is now connected with an automobile agency at Eau Claire, came over on Saturday to spend Sunday with his people in this city.

VESPER

The Vesper Wood Mfg. Co. started their factory last week and will run its full capacity in a few weeks. They expect to employ fifteen men. They have orders booked to keep the factory running for at least four months which is quite an item for Vesper.

Harold Truetel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Truetel, had the misfortune of breaking his right arm just above the elbow while at play in school.

The basement for the candy kitchen and restaurant of Harry Cole is now complete and they will start on the brick work in a few days. The building will be solid brick and fire proof.

Mr. McVicar is having plans drawn and rock hauled for a house which he intends to build on his lot No. 910 Anderson Avenue.

Albert Adams is making preparations to start a button factory on the corner of Wisconsin Street and Cameron Avenue. The machinery which is coming from Iowa, is expected at any time.

Mrs. Chas. Wittig was called to Oshkosh last week where her daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. Scott is quite sick.

Mrs. H. Stahl called on her sister, Mrs. Wm. Paape, at Marshfield last week. Mrs. Paape has been very sick but is now able to be up and around.

John N. Hayes resigned his position as manager of Vesper Safety Clevis and Malleable Iron Co.

O. G. Malde of the experimental station at Grandmoor, was in the city on Tuesday looking after some business matters. He reports everything looking first class on the marsh notwithstanding the fact that the weather has been unfavorable for other fruits.

Making Careful Statements.

Jacob Kissinger of the town of Sigel was a pleasant caller at the Tribune office on Tuesday.

Mr. Kissinger has just got back from Laona where he had been visiting his son John, and where he went to do some fishing. When asked how he found the fishing, he stated that it was only fair. Nothing of snow that lay on the ground when he left there making it less interesting for this sort of sport than it otherwise would have been. After Jake got all thru telling us about the fishing we came to the conclusion that he did not catch any fish at all, but of course we may have been mistaken.

Dr. George Houston, who has been in the west the past year, arrived in the city this morning from Tacoma, Wash. It is Dr. Houston's intention to start in business here, and it is rumored he will form a partnership with Dr. Carl Bandelin.

Voyer-Smith.

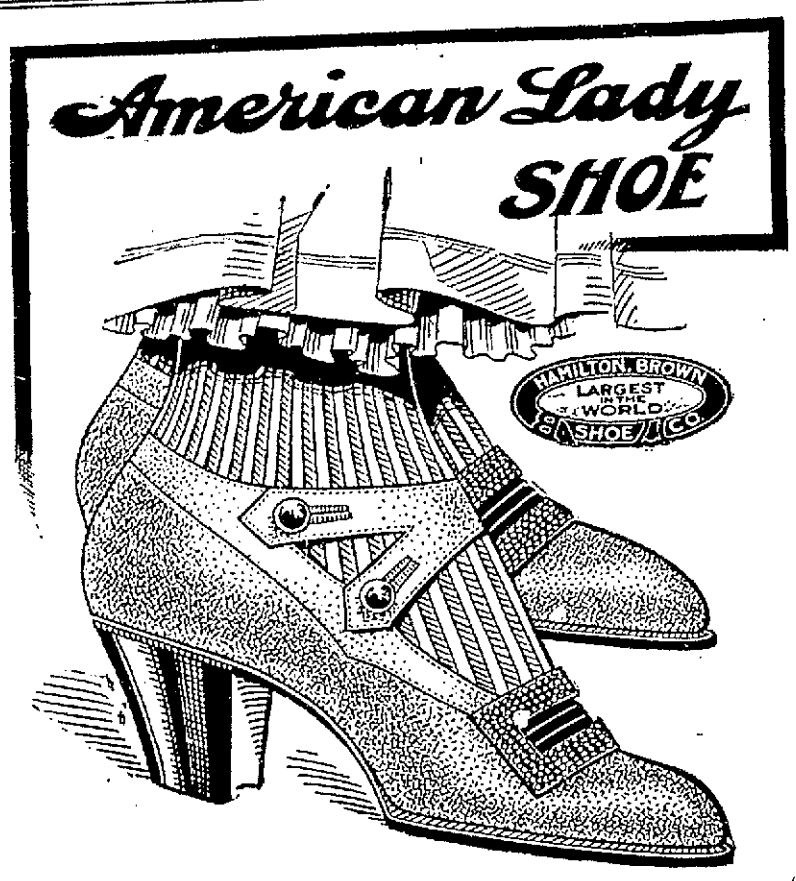

Miss Amanda Voyer and Charles Smith were married at the Catholic parsonage Monday evening, Rev. Wm. Reding officiating. They were accompanied by George Smith and Miss Margaret Voyer.

They left on Tuesday for Milwaukee where they will spend a short honeymoon, after which they will return to this city to make their home.

Both of the interested parties are well and favorably known in this city and have many friends to wish them God speed on their journey thru life.

Heads Association.

John P. Horton, manager of the Grand Rapids Milling company in this city, was in Milwaukee last week where he attended the annual meeting of Wisconsin millers. Mr. Horton was again elected president of the organization, an office which he has held for several years past.

American Lady
SHOE

This divided strap effect, besides being mighty pretty, has a lot of common sense to it. It pulls the shoe to your foot at the points that are most likely to bulge and slip. You'd be surprised how perfectly snug it feels at every point. This is a black suede pump, made on the dainty "Ruth" last, with Pitch heel. The jet buckle is one of the newest and prettiest decorations of the season. You really can't realize how pretty this pump is without seeing it. Won't you step in some time today?
